

Pixilation Workshop: „Music-Clip“

In this workshop we will animate a music clip using „Pixilation“ technique.

„Pixilation“ is a stop motion technique where live actors are animated frame by frame. The actors are repeatedly posing while a frame is taken and changing pose slightly before the next frame. The actor becomes a kind of living stop motion puppet.

Content of this workshop is to invent different movements of the body and create sounds to bring the movements alive.

Each of the participants should invent his own gesticulation and find his way of body expression. The movements can be dancing, imitating to sing or any kind of walking, crawling, appearing or disappearing. He can work on his own, or create a choreography with other participants.

Afterwards we will create sounds to each take, without using instruments but with using our voices to create sounds and rhythm.

The result will be an animated music clip.
